ANGLO-SAXON JUSTICE
URGED BY JUDGE PARK

Charges Grand Jurors on Monday That on Their Action Rests Good Name
of White Race.

BY MARION KENDRICK,
Constitution Staff Correspondent.
Monticello, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Following the return of a dozen murder indictments against John S. Williams, his three younger sons and Clyde Manning, the negro whose sensational confession revealed the "murder farm" atrocities,
by the Jasper county grand jury
this afternoon, Solicitor-General Doyle Campbell announced tonight that an investigation will be made Tuesday into the killing of two other negroes by other individuals in different parts of the county.

This disclosure by the solicitor came at the end of the first day's session of the special term of the grand jury, during which much new evidence offering stronger support to the testimony of Manning was submitted, and is an indication of the rigid probe Jasper county officials are determined to make into all racial trouble within its borders,
according to Judge J. B. Park.

Charge
Places.
The stirring charge of the judge was everywhere received with enthusiasm, and long before the first indictments were returned, they were predicted by the leading citizens. Small groups of men discussed the case in front of the courthouse and a number of deputies were present to prevent any possible disorder.

While no indictments were returned in the Eugene Hamilton lynching case, the investigation will be continued Tuesday, according to the solicitor, and more than twenty witnesses will appear before the body. Action would have been taken on the matter today, it was stated, but the evidence presented did not warrant such a course.

"Regarding the homicides which the grand jury will next investigate," said Solicitor Campbell, "they occurred within the past two or three months, and owing to suspicious circumstances, the body decided it was best to determine the exact cause of the deaths."

"In one of the cases a party of four white men went to a negro's house to inquire of the whereabouts of a relative of the inmate, who had run away. When they approached the home, the negro opened the door and fired at them. An exchange of shots followed. The next morning the body of a negro was found in the yard," he stated.

Was Not Reported.

"As the case now stands, no one knows who shot the negro. Since the killing was never reported, we

Washington, April 11.—(Constitution Leased Wire.)—When the curtain raised on the 67th congress today it found every member of the Georgia delegation on the house floor and Senator William J. Harris
in his seat in the senate. Senator Thomas E. Watson, by reason of indisposition, has been delayed in arriving, but will reach Washington tomorrow.

The Georgia members of the house who answered to their call, and were sworn in today, follows:
First district, J. W. Overstreet;
second district, Frank Park; third district, Charles F. Crisp; fourth, W. C. Wright; fifth, W. D. Upshaw;
sixth, W. W. Wise; seventh, Gordon Lee; eighth, Charles H. Brand;
ninth, Thomas M. Bell; tenth, Carl Vinson; eleventh, W. C. Lankford; twelfth, W. W. Larsen.

Important bills that were introduced today by the members of the Georgia delegation were as follows:

Georgia Measures.
By Lee of the seventh, to appropriate $100,000,000 a year for a period of five years as government aid in the construction of post-roads on the basis of an equal match by states as provided in the federal aid legislation heretofore enacted.

By Crisp of the third, to restrict immigration to the United States in its entirety, for a period of ten years.

By Brand of the eighth, to fix the maximum discount rate of federal reserve banks at 5 per cent; also to take the paper of factors and commission men eligible for discount, the same as warehouse receipts and all other securities handled by federal reserve banks.

By Wright of the fourth, to fix the railroad transportation rates at the same scale as that in force at the time of the passage of the Esch-Cummings law.

By Upshaw of the fifth, to prohibit the mails to publications printed in America in foreign languages, except where each column is paralleled by the same text in English.

Adjourns for Day.
Congress convened today with few departures from time-honored precedent, and adjourned until tomorrow when, at 1 o'clock, a joint session will hear President Harding deliver his opening message.

Appointment of committees to notify the president of the assembling of the extraordinary session, re-election of Speaker Gillett and other republican officers of the house, introduction of hundreds of bills and resolutions in the house and organization of affairs were the principal features of today's session.

The senate, which was organized last month, was in session only twenty minutes, but the house organization required several hours.
The crowds of spectators thronged
both senate and house galleries.

President Harding's message tomorrow is to be the signal for the beginning of the session's work. A for the first appearance of the new executive before congress is expected. Admission is to be by card

Council Begins Searching Probe of Bunco Gang Revelations

Members of the council investigating committee and some of the principals in the councilmanic bunco probe are shown in the top picture, which was taken just before Chairman Walter A. Sims called the session to order. Chairman Sims is standing. The other members, reading to the right, are: Councilman R. A. Gordon, Councilman W. Pat Anderson, Alderman Harry Goodhart and Councilman J. A. Couch. Seated at the end of the table is J. H. McKerley, official stenographer at the hearing. Chief Poole is seen seated between and back of Councilmen Gordon and Anderson. Next to him, at the right, is Judge J. K. Hines, his counsel. Next is Herbert Shaw, attorney for Lieutenant Shaw, with Lieutenant Shaw sitting at his side. The last man in the row is Lieutenant Waggoner. Aldine Chambers is sitting directly behind Judge Hines. FORMER EMPRESS
OF GERMANY DIES

End Comes on Anniversary of Her First Serious Attack of Heart Trouble.

Doorn, Holland, April 11.—Former Empress Augusta Victoria of Germany, died here at 8 o'clock this morning. By a strange coincidence the end came just one year after she suffered her first serious attack
of heart disease.

It was while she was preparing to enter the house of Doorn, the present home of the former empress of Germany, after her long residence at Amerongen, that she was stricken with what at the time was believed to be a fatal attack. That was on April 11, 1920. For a few days there were reports that her death was momentarily expected, but she rallied, and accompanied her husband to Doorn on May 15, last.

Attacks of her fatal malady recurred at frequent intervals, each sapping her vitality and nullifying
the measures taken by specialists to restore her health. When her son, former Prince Joachim, committed suicide in Berlin last July,
she was in such serious condition that the news of his death was

His suspicions aroused by seeing a number of young men going in Alabama street, for several nights, Patrolman Woolley decided to make an investigation. At 10:40 o'clock Monday night, while patrolling his beat summoned Patrolmen Davis, Evans and Hughes and after a consultation, they decided to raid the house.

Expecting to probably discover a gambling den, they ascended to the third floor, on which is located the office of a window cleaning establishment. In the office they found two men playing poker, one giving his name as Louis Roman a window
cleaner, and the other Mel Campbell, 18 year old newsboy, of 42 Spring street. Both were arrested while a search of the rooms was begun.

Liquor Is Found.

Two suitcases found in the room
were forced open, disclosing num-ous pint and half-pint bottles of whisky. Two gallon cans and a jug were found, also full of liquor.
The whisky was unmistakably
"corn," and the officers who at once began a systematic search of

Supreme Court Will

Banks Today.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,

Washington, April 11.—The case of the country banks in the Sixth Federal Reserve district against the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, will be heard by the supreme court of the United States tomorrow.

This hearing will be on an appeal from the United States circuit court of appeals. The controversy involves the right of the federal reserve banks of the country to collect at par checks drawn on banks which refuse to remit at par.

The federal reserve banks contend that it is authorized by the federal reserve act to collect checks drawn on any bank whether or not a member of the federal reserve system. It is also claimed that the act forbids the payment to any bank of a charge for remitting
for checks drawn upon the remit-ting bank. Hence the reserve bank says that in the case of banks refusing to remit at par it must col-

Governor Defends the State
Against Charge That Prac-

New York, April 11.—(Special.)— Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, of Georgia, told reporters at the Hotel Vanderbilt tonight that from the standpoint of the prosecution, action against peonage in that state has only just begun, and that the people of Georgia can be depended upon to see that the entire matter is cleared up. At the same time he defended his state against the charge that peonage is general in the farming counties, insisting that it exists only in four, or at most five, of the 156 counties of the state.

Speaking of the verdict in the case of John Williams, he said:
"My understanding of the verdict in the first of the cases to go to trial is that four men on the jury were determined on a mistrial, rather than a verdict which would have spelled hanging. Rather than have a mistrial the eight who favored a hanging verdict agreed on a compromise verdict. They apparently thought, and I think that the compromise was to be preferred to a mistrial which would have been interpreted by the rest of the country as meaning that in Georgia a

Washington, April 11.—(By Con-

seed crushers and crude cotton seed interests of the south, as well as the peanut and dairying interests, specifically and farm organizations generally, from that section, opened a vigorous campaign before the sixty-seventh congress today
for a greater protective tariff duty on all imported vegetable oils and materials than provided in the incomplete schedules carried in the Fordney emergency tariff bill, which will be re-enacted in the early days of this congress. This campaign is being conducted by the crude cotton and oil tariff committee, which has its headquarters in Atlanta, and an early rehearing will be asked before the ways and Accepts the Challenge of Council for Detectives to Investigate Every Law Enforcement Agent.

JURY PRESENTMENTS
ADMITTED BY PROBERS

Grand Jurors Asked Removal of Three Detective Heads in Report Accused Sought to Bar.

Opening hostilities last night in the councilmanic investigation of police department criminality or inefficiency in dealing with Atlanta's
bunco band revealed these things:
The investigation committee is going to hear every bit of evidence that can throw any light on police failure to protect the lives and property of Atlantans or people who come into Atlanta. Every effort by representatives of the detective officials to choke off such evidence was promptly overruled by Councilman Walter Sims, chairman of the investigating committee.

Council for Lamar Poole, chief of detectives; A. D. Shaw and Robert Waggoner, lieutenants of detectives,
are going to endeavor to disprove
the charges of inefficiency or venality against their clients by attempting to show that the bunco ring flourishes under the nose of Solicitor-General Boykin just as much as it did under the eyes of the city detectives.

Will Not
Dodge Issue.

Solicitor-General Boykin is not going to dodge the issue. He showed this when he accepted the challenge of Robert P. Jones, of the detectives' counsel, "to investigate the conduct of every official in the city who is under oath to enforce the laws." When this challenge was forensically delivered Eugene R.
Black, representing the citizens' committee supporting Mr. Boykin, declared "that suits us."

The investigation is likely to last through weeks. The committee worked hard and fairly rapidly at its opening session Monday night.
At 11 o'clock, when it adjourned,
the surface of the bunco charges had been barely scratched. The committee meets Tuesday night at 7 o'clock and will again sit until an hour of midnight.

At the Monday night hearing,
the Boykin forces showed their attack toward showing that the detective department had made little or no effort to hold Floyd Woodward, chief of the bunco band, for the killing of Ed Mills, one of his associates.

On the other hand, the counsel for the detectives attempted to show by the same witnesses that the detectives had been just as ac-

than had been the solicitor-general.

Partisanship

Is shown. Neither side minded showing its partisanship in the least. When Mr. Black appeared to score for Boykin, there were shouts and laughter from the members of the opposing camps. Members of the citizens' committee were prominent in the assembly. City hall politicians and members of the police force were on hand in great numbers.

Counsel

There was a brief clash between counsel as Mr. Black continued to state his case. "Are these indictments bills that have already been found?" asked Mr. Jones.

Presentments

Admitted. All the lawyers were on their feet anxious to argue further, when Chairman Sims nipped the talking of counsel. "The committee is not trying anyone," he said. "We are charged by the coroner's jury to investigate the police department, and I think that anything that will throw light on the department is certainly admissible."

Seats

Quickly Filled. When they poured out the council chamber, it appeared for a second as a banquet hall deserted, but there was an ample reserve audience in the hall ways and corridors and the emptied seats were filled more quickly than they were vacated and the standing room was soon at a premium.

Donahoe

Recalled. When Coroner Donehoo was recalled, Mr. Black announced that he wished to take up with him the lack of efficiency of the detective department in the investigation of the Ed Mills case.

Arrested

Holtzman. A police report signed by Waggoner was then introduced. It stated that Waggoner had been in charge of the investigation, and had arrested Holtzman on suspicion, but there was no record that he had been brought before the coroner's jury.

Point

Pressed. Mr. Black objected to the coroner's views and evidence introduced, but the counsel for the detectives pressed the point. "We want to show that Lieutenant Shaw, who is accused of being derelict in his duty, called witnesses whose testimony the coroner believed of sufficient to hold this man," said Mr. Jones.

Jury

Amuck. "I told him that my jury had gone amuck and that the case against Woodward should be prosecuted," "What did he say?" "He said—"

Impossible

To Convict. The coroner then testified that Mr. Boykin had told him that it would be next to impossible to convict Woodward. However, he did say he would take up the investigation.

Cause

of Arrest. "Wasn't he arrested for having whiskey and not for the Mills killing?" "I don't know."

Presentments

Admitted. Thomas Skipper, president of the Georgia Carpenters' Union, was called. He testified that prior to April 1919, he occupied an office on the third floor of the Flatiron building. He knew Woodward by sight and he had an office on the same floor.

They Never

Came Back. "They never came back after that day," replied the witness. "Did you ever see any officers around there?" asked Chairman Sims.

"We want to show that Lieutenant Shaw, who is accused of being derelict in his duty, called witnesses whose testimony the coroner believed of sufficient to hold this man," said Mr. Jones.

Jury

Amuck. "I told him that my jury had gone amuck and that the case against Woodward should be prosecuted," "What did he say?" "He said—"

Recalled

When Coroner Donehoo was recalled, Mr. Black announced that he wished to take up with him the lack of efficiency of the detective department in the investigation of the Ed Mills case.

Impossible

To Convict. The coroner then testified that Mr. Boykin had told him that it would be next to impossible to convict Woodward. However, he did say he would take up the investigation.

Cause

of Arrest. "Wasn't he arrested for having whiskey and not for the Mills killing?" "I don't know."

Presentments

Admitted. Thomas Skipper, president of the Georgia Carpenters' Union, was called. He testified that prior to April 1919, he occupied an office on the third floor of the Flatiron building. He knew Woodward by sight and he had an office on the same floor.

They Never

Came Back. "They never came back after that day," replied the witness. "Did you ever see any officers around there?" asked Chairman Sims.

Recalled

When Coroner Donehoo was recalled, Mr. Black announced that he wished to take up with him the lack of efficiency of the detective department in the investigation of the Ed Mills case.

Arrested

Holtzman. A police report signed by Waggoner was then introduced. It stated that Waggoner had been in charge of the investigation, and had arrested Holtzman on suspicion, but there was no record that he had been brought before the coroner's jury.

Point

Pressed. Mr. Black objected to the coroner's views and evidence introduced, but the counsel for the detectives pressed the point. "We want to show that Lieutenant Shaw, who is accused of being derelict in his duty, called witnesses whose testimony the coroner believed of sufficient to hold this man," said Mr. Jones.

Jury

Amuck. "I told him that my jury had gone amuck and that the case against Woodward should be prosecuted," "What did he say?" "He said—"

All He Wants Is None Too Much for Him

Remember when ordering Ice Cream of this kind that every grown up will want a big plate of it and every youngster will want two.

The goodness that fathers the want is a secret of our own, but the reason they should have a lot of lies in its full food value in a most appetizing form, and in its absolute purity and cleanliness.

Gate City Ice Cream

The secret of ice cream is not wholly in buying good materials—its proper proportions from a digestive viewpoint is equally valuable.

Therein lies the value of our long experience.

JUNIOR CHAMBER PLANS ELECTION

Great Enthusiasm Features Meeting Monday Night, When Organization Work Is Discussed.

Atlanta's Junior chamber of commerce, organized three weeks ago as an outgrowth of the senior chamber, held the most enthusiastic meeting since the organization was started Monday night, when 1,200 members met in the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce building to celebrate "charter" night. The meeting, which was presided over by Charles N. Walker, chairman of the organization committee, was marked by the greatest enthusiasm.

Clark Howell, Jr., in an address, urged the importance of the young men of Atlanta joining the part in the outbreak of the war, explaining that the time had arrived when a duty of active citizenship devolved on the young men of the city.

Other addresses were made by C. E. Robertson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Robert Troutman, member of the board of directors of the senior chamber, who urged the membership to a strict observance of their duties as representatives of Atlanta's Junior chamber. Chairman Walker read reports of the progress of the chamber, showing that 1,200 young men of Atlanta had joined the organization, and that the chamber had received the highest number of votes in the nomination ballot, shall be entered nominees for the chamber of officers, which will include a president, three vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, and a board of directors consisting of twelve members.

The purpose of the organization was further explained as a means of co-operating to the greatest extent in all vital questions affecting the welfare of the community and state.

Other interesting features of the Monday night program were the number of songs sung by the gathering, which included several renditions of "Rambling Rose," "Glory to Old Georgia," and the award of a gold signet ring to Kenneth S. Reeves for having enlisted a total of 165 members in the junior chamber movement.

Bank Officers Elected.

Clermont, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—At a recent meeting of the directors of the Clermont State bank, J. D. Wilson, formerly with the Citizens bank of Gainesville, was elected cashier, succeeding F. B. Mauney, who goes to Cleveland as cashier of the White County bank. "A. C. Miller" tendered his resignation as vice president and is succeeded by Fred O'Kelly.

BRITAIN SUGGESTS OIL DISPUTE PLAN

Unofficial Memorandum Received for Settlement of Mesopotamian Agreement on Oil Lands.

Washington, April 11.—Adjustment of the dispute between the United States and Great Britain growing out of the San Remo oil agreement concerning Mesopotamia, has been suggested informally to the United States, it was learned today officially.

The plan proposed was in a memorandum reaching the state department, but not made in such manner as to place the necessity for decision upon this government until more definite representations are received.

It was proposed that the United States appoint a commissioner to confer with the British petroleum commission, but not made in such manner as to place the necessity for decision upon this government until more definite representations are received.

There already have been several diplomatic exchanges between the United States and Great Britain on this subject, the latest having been the reply of Lord Curzon, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, to Secretary Coby's note of last November 20.

Another contention of the British foreign minister was that British interests held in Mesopotamia oil concessions in Mexico, Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

This has been disputed by the state department, which is understood to claim that there is nothing in the records it has to show that the concessions were consummated, although there is a record of a letter from a Turkish official to the British, dated before the war, in which he was asked to open negotiations for concessions.

Twin Sons Come To Mother's Cell At Police Station

The 5-year-old twin sons of Mrs. P. B. Herter, of 249 Courtland street, spent a great part of Monday night in a cell of the city police barracks with their mother, who, with her husband, and Herman Salloway, a tailor living at 91 Kelly street, had been arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of disorderly conduct, following a fight between the mother and father, after Mrs. Herter had been found, it was claimed, in the company of Salloway in his shop on Decatur street.

According to reports made to the police, Herter found his wife missing upon his return from work, and immediately directed his search to Salloway's tailor shop where, it is said, he found her in the company of the husband and wife. A fight between the husband and wife is reported to have followed, in which both received a number of scratches about the face and hands, Salloway not being a participant, having removed himself to the background.

It was while the mother and father were confined to cells at police headquarters and their two sons learned of their whereabouts and they remained with her after midnight, when she was released on bond. Herter and Salloway were being held by Officers Segall and Garrett.

WOMAN AND BABY HURT WHEN AUTO RUNS INTO BANK

Americus, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Henderson Dodson was seriously injured and their baby slightly hurt when their car, driven by Mr. Dodson, ran into a road bank five miles west of Americus, near their home. The steering wheel hit the bank before it could be stopped.

Mrs. Dodson and the baby were thrown from the car. Mrs. Dodson's head striking the bank, her skull was fractured and several ribs were broken. She had not gained consciousness Monday. The baby was injured about the limbs, and it is thought that one ankle is sprained.

Mrs. Dodson and her young son, who occupied the front seat, were uninjured.

POLICE FIND STILL IN HEART OF CITY

The premises. While continuing the search a man who afterwards gave his name as Leo Elva, of the Georgia hotel, entered the room, unaware that the policemen were there. Observing the officers, he at first stopped, and made a motion to escape through the door he had just entered. He evidently decided this would be useless and entered the room, apparently with the intention to "bluff it out."

Continuing their search to the attic, the patrolmen found a complete ten-gallon copper still, disconnected, which the police believe, accounts for the large quantity of whisky found in the room below.

Three Placed in Jail.

Romos, Elva and Campbell were all placed in jail under $1,000 bond. The police claim they have found the still which has been the source of much of the whisky in circulation in Atlanta.

It is the belief in police circles that the whisky was distilled in the attic and systematically sold in any quantity desired. It is thought that others will be incriminated in connection with this discovery.

The three men are charged with disorderly conduct, running and being in a gaming house and illegal possession of whisky.

3,000 ARE CONVERTED DURING BIG REVIVAL

Meetings Will Be Continued by Churches Through Another Week.

Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of the city taking part in the interdenominational campaign, at a union meeting held Monday morning reported more than 3,000 conversions within the past week of the great revival of the city.

Final results of the week, as reported by Methodist churches engaged in the movement contain the news that 26 churches of that denomination have enlisted a total of 1,000 new members during the campaign. Eight churches have revoked their former decision to close the revival with the Sunday night service, and will continue another week.

Thirty-six Baptist churches reporting at the interdenominational Monday give out the information that a total of 1,200 additions to membership have been recorded by the denomination. It is said that the whole Baptist force will carry the meetings on for an indefinite length of time.

Fifteen Presbyterian churches of the city, reporting at the union service, state that more than 600 conversions have been recorded during the week, and that the entire number will carry on for another week. Thousands of people have attended the altar in prayer within several congregations. Ministers have declared themselves astonished at the remarkable results attained and have expressed themselves as willing to continue the campaign as long as interest demands.

Dr. George Stoves, of Nashville, Tenn., delivered a powerful sermon at the Wesley Memorial interdenominational service Monday before a large congregation. Reports from some of the Methodist churches follow:

Grace Methodist—C. E. Phillips from the Billy Sunday club, conducted the Monday night meeting with a large number of testimonies reported.

St. Luke's Methodist—Reports state that the Monday afternoon service was attended by a large congregation.

Epworth Methodist—Great St. Luke's Methodist—Great number of testimonies reported.

Baptist churches continue to grow in enthusiasm, according to reports made by James Morton, of the First Baptist church, Monday night.

WORLD FAIR MEETING WILL BE HELD TODAY

Prominent Atlantans Will Gather at Luncheon to Boost Big Project.

BY M. D. GLEASON.

The World's Fair committee will have a luncheon at the Peacock cafe today, beginning at 12:30 o'clock. All those interested in boosting the big fair are invited to attend. Arrangements having been made with the management of the cafe to serve those who come late even up to 3 o'clock.

There are now more than 200 large corporations including railroads, express companies, fraternal orders, women's clubs, civic, educational and labor leaders, capitalists, business and professional men directly interested in promoting the World's Fair in Atlanta in 1925.

This movement has been going on quickly the last few weeks gathering strength day by day, until now it is backed by men representing more money and more people than any one movement ever projected in the south.

Among the speakers at the luncheon will be Mayor James L. Key, Ivan Allen, J. J. Williamson, H. M. Stanley, Dr. George M. Napier, T. L. Bennett, Maurice J. McCarthy, Dr. John Powell, Chas. W. Bernhardt, Andrew McElroy, W. R. Fitzgerald, V. H. Krieschhaber, Lucian York, C. L. Barks, Thomas S. Skipper, J. L. Carpenter, S. H. Greenberg, J. C. Murphy, Frank Weiden, George W. Woodruff, Clyde King, Chas. A. Smith, J. E. Bodenhamer, Dr. Horace Grant, Newman Laver, H. P. West, Dr. J. C. White, S. C. Little, J. N. McEwen, Walter G. Cooner, Leo French, J. F. Sharrette, Warren B. Fogg, D. Asbury and G. O. Crayne.

Miss A. Viola Smith, who has been appointed secretary of the American commercial attaché in Berlin, is said to be the first woman to hold an official post in the foreign trade service of the United States.

OFFICER STUDENT KILLED IN SMASH

Columbus, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Major Paul A. Johnson, of Camp Benning, was instantly killed late this afternoon on the camp road, a mile south of the city, when his automobile plunged down the steep embankment at Bull creek.

Major Johnson was returning to camp from Benning by the city and, as he neared Bull creek bridge, a car approached from the other direction, traveling quite rapidly. He turned his car to the side in order to give the other automobile plenty of room, and in doing so, went too close to the edge of the embankment and went over. Major Johnson was killed by the fall, receiving a blow on the head which evidently brought death instantly. Major Hester, who was with him in the car, escaped injury.

CORK MAYOR ORDERED TO LEAVE IN 60 DAYS

Counsel Says O'Callaghan Will Seek Habeas Corpus Writ.

Washington, April 11.—Secretary Davis, in a formal statement today, said he had "no doubt" that Donald O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, would comply with "the logic of the situation" and resign as an alien seaman within sixty days from the date of the state department ruling that he was not entitled to asylum in the United States as a political refugee.

TO FIGHT DEPORTATION.

Philadelphia, April 11.—"O'Callaghan will remain in this country until he considers it safe to return to Ireland," said Michael Francis Doyle, attorney for the lord mayor of Cork, here today. "Notice was served on the department of labor," he said, "that a writ of habeas corpus would be immediately applied for, if any effort were made to deport the lord mayor."

CONVICT MAKES BREAK FROM JACKSON GANG

Athens, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—A convict named Bloodworth, said to have been sent up for burglary from Fulton county, escaped from Jackson county chain gang this afternoon and has not yet been captured. The convict managed in some way to obtain the guard's pistol before making his escape. It is thought that the man is in hiding in the woods between the Athens and Commerce public road and the Oconee river. Large posse of officers and citizens are pursuing him.

City Bond Issue Hearing Continued Until April 21

Hearing on the validation of Atlanta's bond issue of $2,500,000 was continued Monday until April 21 by Judge W. D. Ellis. Judge George L. Bell had set April 11 as the date on which the hearing would be held, but on account of his absence, caused by illness, Judge Ellis continued the case until Judge Bell's return. The validation is being contested by Walter H. Brown, as taxpayer and citizen. He contends that a constitutional electorate did not vote for the bonds at the election and he was allowed to intervene by Judge Bell.

WAGE CUT REJECTED AT KNOXVILLE MILLS

Knoxville, Tenn., April 11.—Rejecting a wage cut of 22-25 per cent ordered into effect today by officials of the Brookside mills, which reduction also carried with it institution of a 55-hour week for employees as against 39 hours heretofore, extended 1,500 employees of the company refused to enter the plant today. Immediate suspension of operations followed and the plant will be closed indefinitely, "or until such time as the help reconsiders the matter and applies for resumption of work under the new conditions," according to a statement by James Maynard, president of the company.

BOND COMMISSION NAMED IN SUBURB

Fred Shaefer Heads College Park Body—Intensive Campaign for Success of Issue.

Fred Shaefer, widely-known resident of the real estate business in Atlanta, has been named chairman of the thriving little suburb's commission which is sponsoring the proposed issue of $70,000 in municipal improvement bonds, which are planned for use in building better schools, extending the sewerage system and paving streets. A mass meeting of citizens of College Park was held at the High school auditorium Saturday night to give each attendant an opportunity to express his views on the subject and to announce the bond commissions as approved by the mayor and council of College Park. Enthusiastic speeches favoring bonds were made by Mayor W. W. Bateman, Professor W. A. Sutton, of Boys' High school, J. A. Northcutt, Benjamin Neely, George P. Whitman and J. P. Bradley. S. E. Davidson presided.

Speaking from his subject, "Statistics," Mr. Northcutt declared that "College Park has simply outgrown her schools and if the city expresses to keep pace with other live suburban cities she must improve the crowded and safe conditions of its schools. With practically the same equipment, for the past three years, the schools have doubled in attendance and are now so crowded that there is hardly room for another pupil." The bond commission, as named by the mayor and council, is composed of the following well-known citizens: Fred Shaefer, chairman; S. E. Davidson, E. F. Isom, T. C. Holmes, F. H. Beers, F. M. Kener, Edward Richardson, V. C. Mason, J. T. Martin, D. C. Lyle, E. P. Sherratt, W. C. Whitfield, J. P. Bradley, Mrs. Maynard Willingham, Mrs. E. W. Lawson and Mrs. A. R. Mayfield. The women are splendidly organized and are working under the name of the woman's central committee. They are seeking to get every woman of the city registered and casts her vote for bonds on April 22. They have canvassed practically every home in the city and express confidence that the issue will be successful if all register and vote. Mrs. Maynard Willingham is chairman of the committee. Miss Annie Thornton, vice chairman; Mrs. Claude Yow, secretary; and Mrs. E. W. Lawson, manager of publicity. There are election districts with a chairman for each district.

The $70,000 bonds will be spent as follows: Fifty thousand dollar for new schools and equipment; $10,000 for paving and $10,000 for school outfall. As it will be necessary to increase the tax rate, a second ballot will be cast at the same election ratifying the school tax amendment, making the increase from one-half of one per cent to 1 per cent.

The election will be held Saturday, April 23, and registration closes Monday, April 17.

How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that circulates in the veins—helps you. Nourished iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it is from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nourished iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich blood, revitalizes wornout, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nourished Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only (not in liquid form).—(Adv.)

Double Funeral Services For Two Victims of Burns

Gladys and Ruby Hembree, the two little sisters who were burned to death in Sharon church Sunday.

Funeral services for Ruby and Gladys Hembree, the two little girls who were burned to death Sunday night in Sharon church at West Haven Springs, near Adamsville, as a result of gasoline explosion, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Baptist church in Roswell, Ga., with the Rev. W. H. Smith officiating. Interment will be in the churchyard, not far from the old Hembree home in Roswell. Surviving them are their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hembree; six brothers, Dewitt, Grady, Albie, J. L., Norris and Everett Hembree, and one sister, Mrs. W. R. Jameson. The accident occurred Sunday night just before the church hour when Mr. Hembree, who with his family was among the first arrivals for the evening service, started a fire in the stove. The fire refused to burn at first, so someone suggested that gasoline be applied. Jean Damon, a member of the congregation, got a five-gallon can of gasoline and began pouring the contents on the smoldering embers of the hidden fire, for it was thought that the flames had been extinguished. The two little girls were seated near the stove at the time the fluid was applied, and were enveloped in a cloud of flame when a small spark ignited the gasoline and caused the can to explode. The report of the explosion was heard for several blocks. Those within the church huddled against the walls at the sound of the crash, but the two little girls were standing too near to escape. Ruby, who was thirteen years old, was seized by W. H. Whitfield and Dewitt Hembree in an attempt to put out the flames, but her younger sister, Gladys, fled from the building screaming with her clothes on fire. As she passed the door, her father tried to catch her, but she broke away and ran into the churchyard. Finally he ran her down, and wrapped her with his coat, which he had removed in the race. The flames, however, could not be stopped until all of her clothing had been burned away. An attempt was also made to subdue the fire on Ruby's clothes, but she too, was burned from head to foot. The girls were immediately placed in an automobile and driven to Grady hospital with all speed, only to die a few hours later. Mr. Hembree received painful burns on his hands trying to save his daughter, and Mr. Whitfield's face was scorched in his efforts. Another little girl, Naomi Brandon, who was standing near, suffered burns on the face when the flames were thrown on her. Damon, it is said, was not injured.

FOOD RETAILERS HERE TO ENTERTAIN MORRIS

Head of Chicago Packing House in Atlanta on Business Visit.

Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co., Chicago packers, who is in Atlanta for a few days inspecting the local branch house, will be the guest of the Atlanta Retail Food Dealers' association at their bi-weekly meeting Tuesday evening in the chamber of commerce assembly hall.

Upon learning of Mr. Morris' presence in the city, Byron C. Kistner, president of the association, immediately sent a cordial invitation to the head of the big meat packing concern to be the guest of the organization at its regular meeting. The invitation was promptly accepted.

Although this is a business meeting, talks will be made by a number of the members on better methods of doing business, and other topics of timely interest to the food retailers will be discussed. A large attendance is expected. Mr. Morris is visiting the various plants and branch houses about the country in an effort to obtain better and more comprehensive understanding of general business conditions in the packing and fertilizer industries. He is accompanied on his trip by George H. Rasmussen, president of the Morris Fertilizer company, a subsidiary company of the packing company, and Paul A. Dett, manager of the by-products department of Morris & Co.

MANY YOUTHS RESPOND TO CALL OF THE NAVY

Following a renewal of efforts to recruit the United States navy up to a full national war basis, reports given out by Lieutenant Commander R. H. Booth, in charge of the Atlanta recruiting station, show that many youths are responding to the colors. Within the last week a total of nine enlistments were made.

The following men were enrolled: E. R. N. Barker, R. E. Wilson, H. H. Haden, L. B. Thomas, J. G. Marshall, J. D. Ward, W. M. Stevens, R. C. Hamilton, Martin Tucker, J. W. Nelson, W. D. Coursey, H. R. King, R. D. Thompson, W. C. Mathis, Curtis Ragan, Olan Richardson, G. H. Richardson, J. W. Hinds, G. A. Lang, W. T. T. Tey, A. W. Watts, R. R. Tatum, E. L. Norris, H. L. Mosley, A. A. Davis, W. C. Matthews, J. E. Futnam, W. T. H. Yancey, George McCann, R. E. Parker, Eddie Parker and T. R. Ivey. Twenty-three were from Georgia, two from South Carolina, five from Florida, and three from Alabama. Men enlisting for the first time are sent to Newport News, Va., for training, while previous service men have the privilege of going to Charleston, S. C., or Newport News. Lieutenant Commander Booth states that a recent order from the bureau of navigation authorized the discharge from the naval reserve force of any man, provided it be made for transfer to the regular navy. First enlistment men are enlisted in any branch, for four years, but previous service men may enlist for two, three or four years.

Baker-Boone.

An Atlanta wedding in which a wide circle of friends and acquaintances are interested was that of Mrs. Hazel Reynolds Baker and Robert Warren Boone, which took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Pauline Dwyer, at 20 East Tenth street, at high noon, Saturday, April 2.

The marriage ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Davis, of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church. The bride and groom stood in a semi-circle before an artistically devised altar of dogwood and fern. The attendants were: J. Frank Reynolds, Miss Janette Liddell, J. Grantland Reynolds and Miss Katherine Scott.

The bride entered the parlors on the arm of her oldest brother, Harry, who wore a suit of blue, with hat to match. They were met at the altar by the groom, his best man, Norman Boone.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held, and Mr. and Mrs. Boone left immediately on an automobile trip to Florida. The bride's return to her home at home to their many friends at 254 Atlanta avenue.

DAMAGE TO CROPS AROUND AUGUSTA IS RESULT OF COLD

Augusta, Ga., April 11.—(Special.) Some damage is reported by farmers to have been done by the cold of the past two days to crops of fruit and vegetables in the vicinity of Augusta.

Albert L. Barnes, who operates one of the largest truck farms in the vicinity, states that he has lost heavily as the result of the past few days of cold weather. He says that he has lost about 2,000 hills of tomatoes, and that his entire crop of Irish potatoes, watermelons, cantaloupes, snapbeans, cucumbers, squash and okra was killed.

Brothers Lying in Blood.

Shepherd, who was killed Saturday morning, asserts that he found Conley in the blood of the dead brother. "I have never seen a man so badly cut in the chest," he said, "as I saw Conley. He had ten stab wounds in the back and there was a huge cut in the man's chest; there was also a slash across the face."

When I got there, Henry was lying on the floor, dead. Perry, the brother that did the cutting, was lying on the floor by the side of him. Henry was also lying in the blood of the dead brother.

According to the statement, Perry had been told by Henry Barnes, who was sitting with his brother Conley upon the porch of Conley's home Friday afternoon, when Henry Barnes and George Brinson, an acquaintance, came up to the house.

Brothers Scuffle.

Perry shortly afterward got in a scuffle with Henry Barnes, who was being held by Henry Brinson. Brinson then said, according to the statement by Perry, "Don't handle him so rough; don't you know he has been sick?"

Henry then said, "I don't care if he is sick; I want to see him in bed. Perry then went into the house, he said, Henry following and shutting the door."

"You don't believe I'll kill you?" Henry asked, according to the story.

"No, Henry," Perry claims he replied, "I don't believe you will hurt me."

Henry then picked up a smoothing iron, according to statements by Perry, and struck him an overhead blow in the chest, knocking him down. He then, Perry said, got "on top of him." Perry thereupon took out his knife, which was taken away from him by his brother, but which he later recovered and used with fatal effect.

PITABLE PLIGHT FOR EX-STRIKERS IN ALABAMA-MINES

Birmingham, Ala., April 11.—Forty men women and children miners and their families, are facing starvation in Alabama today as a result of unemployment and withdrawal of relief funds by the United Mine Workers of America, according to a statement by J. R. Kennamer, president of District 20, which embraces all the coal fields of this territory.

The list of unemployed miners is growing daily. Mr. Kennamer stated, according to his statement, many of the mines with which the union held contracts and which were not affected by the strike, are closing down for lack of orders. Other mines which employ non-union men, are operating with limited forces or shutting down entirely, he said.

The plight of many families is described as pitiable.

BARNES IS JAILED IN KILLING CASE

Perry Barnes to Face Trial on Charge of Cutting His Brother, Henry Barnes, to Death.

Statesboro, Ga., April 11.—(Special.) Henry Barnes, of Candier county, who was cut to death, officers allege, by his brother, Perry Barnes, Friday night at the home of Conley Barnes, another brother who lives about eight miles west of Statesboro, was buried near his home late Saturday afternoon. Perry Barnes, said to have confessed the homicide, is in jail here awaiting trial. He is suffering from injuries which he states were received in the fatal struggle with his brother.

Perry Barnes states that the fatal cutting occurred after his brother Henry had knocked him down with a smoothing iron, following an exchange of words, and was on top of him, apparently with the intention of Perry states, of doing him bodily harm. Perry succeeded in taking his knife from his pocket, he says, but it was taken from him by his brother Henry. After a struggle, he regained his knife and began to cut his brother in his back. He said that he was so frightened, that he was cutting him to death.

Delegates Should Be Elected.

OKLAHOMA-TEXAS BOUNDARY IS SET

Washington, April 11.—The boundary between Oklahoma and Texas follows the south bank of the Red river, the supreme court held today, in deciding the dispute between the two states.

The treaty of 1819 between the United States and Spain made the southern bank of the boundary, the court said, citing negotiations between Secretary of State Adams and the Spanish envoy at that time, when Texas was a part of Mexico. By "every consideration," the court added, that definition of the boundary was just and legal.

Oil lands in the Red river valley, valued at many millions of dollars, were involved in that suit. The lands have been in the hands of a receiver appointed by the supreme court a year ago, on motion affecting the contested lands, while both states were prohibited from removing oil or gas well machinery located in the territory.

The supreme court today confirmed the report of the commissioners appointed to take testimony in the original boundary suit between the states of Arkansas and Mississippi. The latter had objected to the report on the ground that all possible evidence had not been secured.

Jasper County Opens Rigid Peonage Probe

thought it best to go into a full investigation. The other case, about which I can release very little for publication at present, was where a negro went to a white man's house one night and was later found dead. "Regarding the trial of Manning, I can only say that we will place him before a jury as soon as Newton county has released him from its jurisdiction," he continued. "We can not try the three Williams boys—Marvin, Huland and Leroy—until they have been apprehended. I will ask the governor to offer a reward for them. As to the elder Williams, we must also wait until he is without the jurisdiction of our sister county."

Judge Park stated that it would be impossible to have any of the trials before May. While a change of venue is still being discussed, it is understood that the judge is not in favor of such a step. Should the trials be held in some other county, it is pointed out it will be because of the many relatives of the Williams family in Jasper, and the large number of people attending the inquest held over the bodies of the negroes found in the vicinity of the plantation.

In the matter of the "murder farm" cases, the following indictments were returned:

1. Joint indictment charging John S. Williams and Clyde Manning with murder, this being a blanket indictment covering eight cases.
2. Indictment against Huland Williams, charging him with the murder of the negro known as "Black strap" in the fall of 1920 on what is known as the "Kelly Place."
3. Joint indictment against Leroy and Marvin Williams, charging them with the murder of the negro known as "Iron Jaw" in the summer of 1920. The testimony in this case showed that the negro was killed on the Kelly place by the two Williams boys, the body was allowed to remain on the farm some time and was taken by Marvin Williams from that place to the Pond near that property where it was thrown in.

A indictment charging Marvin Williams with the murder of John Singleton in April, 1918, which appears to have been the first of the series of murders. He was killed with a heavy iron wrench. The testimony showed that the body was taken on a mule, at night, by Marvin Williams, Charlie Chisholm and Clyde Manning to the pond on the Kelly place. Additional testimony was offered the jury to show that when the waters of the pond later receded, the bodies of this negro were found. Several witnesses were offered to support this testimony and the circumstances of the killing.

Eight Individual Bills Against John Williams.

The individual indictments against John S. Williams, totaling eight, are:

1. Charging the murder by John S. Williams of Willie Givens, death being produced by a blow from an axe.
2. The murder of "Big John," death being produced in the same way.
3. The murder of Johnny Williams, colored, death being produced in the same way.
4. The murder of Johnny Greene, death being produced in the same way. The indictments charge that all these deaths occurred on John S. Williams home place.
5. The murder of Charlie Chisholm, drowned in Alcovy river.
6. The murder of John Brown, drowned in Alcovy river.
7. The murder of "Little Bit," drowned in Alcovy river. The murder of Fletcher Smith, death produced by shooting with a shot gun on the Campbell place.

This brings the total number of murders to fourteen.

Appearing before the Jasper county grand jury for the first time, testimony convicted Williams in the Newton superior court last week. He declared that he had been in Jasper county since the 25th of March, 1921. While I was here I was informed by some reputable citizens that the bodies of of negroes had been discovered at that time buried in this county and that the citizens of this country desired me to call a special session of this court as soon as the governor would allow a certain witness, who was imprisoned in the Atlanta jail under a charge pending in Newton county, brought here to testify.

"In compliance with this request, I called on the governor to bring to this county and he informed me that it could not be done until this date. Since the 25th of March, 1921, I have been informed that three more bodies of negroes, have been found. Therefore, you have been empaneled by an order of this court and sworn to investigate into the cause of the death of said victims and ascertain from the evidence produced before you the perpetrators of these horrible assassinations and return bills of indictments against each and all, who were in any way connected with said crimes.

"Your obligation, while it requires you to present no one from envy, hatred or malice, yet you are bound under a most solemn oath to leave no one, if the evidence authorizes it, unpunished from fear, favor, affection, reward, or the hope thereof.

"Under the order of the court, calling you in session at the present time you are not restricted to the investigation of said eight homicides, but you have the right to investigate any other matter brought to your attention or that any member of your body may desire investigated at this special term of the court.

"Under sections 42 and 45 of the criminal code of Georgia of 1910, to let me out of the house again, and this time I got away. Went to Atlanta, and I knew if they got me I was gone."

"No, sir," he said, in reply to a question, "the purpose of my coming here was to get 10 or 15 cents from Mr. Johnny, but that was all. He fed us, all right, and gave us clothes."

Manning corroborated Chapman's statement about the latter's escape, and stated that after the first attempt, he was ordered by Williams to keep the door locked.

"I didn't want to keep the door locked, cause I didn't think it was treating the boys right. When Gus got out the second time, Mr. John told me I would just have to do two men's work. He was mighty mad," he said.

The judge made a strong charge to the jury, urging its members to make a thorough investigation of the murders and lynching. His remarks in full are as follows:

Asked to Summon Jasper Grand Jury.

Judge Park's charge follows:

"Gentlemen of the grand jury, on the evening of March 25, 1921, was here for the purpose of validating $50,000 worth of bonds to be issued by the Monticello school district to build and equip a new school building. While I was here I was informed by some reputable citizens that the bodies of of negroes had been discovered at that time buried in this county and that the citizens of this country desired me to call a special session of this court as soon as the governor would allow a certain witness, who was imprisoned in the Atlanta jail under a charge pending in Newton county, brought here to testify.

"In compliance with this request, I called on the governor to bring to this county and he informed me that it could not be done until this date. Since the 25th of March, 1921, I have been informed that three more bodies of negroes, have been found. Therefore, you have been empaneled by an order of this court and sworn to investigate into the cause of the death of said victims and ascertain from the evidence produced before you the perpetrators of these horrible assassinations and return bills of indictments against each and all, who were in any way connected with said crimes.

"Your obligation, while it requires you to present no one from envy, hatred or malice, yet you are bound under a most solemn oath to leave no one, if the evidence authorizes it, unpunished from fear, favor, affection, reward, or the hope thereof.

"Under the order of the court, calling you in session at the present time you are not restricted to the investigation of said eight homicides, but you have the right to investigate any other matter brought to your attention or that any member of your body may desire investigated at this special term of the court.

"Under sections 42 and 45 of the criminal code of Georgia of 1910, not only the actual perpetrator of a criminal offense is guilty under the laws of Georgia, but any person, who aided, abetted, procured, counseled or commanded a crime committed is equally responsible and when you sit to your jury room, procure a criminal code and read sections 42 through 45 in order you may see what our statutes say in reference connected with the violations of the penal laws.

"I also desire to call your attention to section 60 of said code and you will see that murder is defined to be the killing of a human being with malice, either express or implied; and under the laws of Georgia any person taking the life of any human being of any race under the above circumstances is guilty of murder.

"The court desires to instruct you that no one has the right to take the life of any person, except by commandment of the law in execution of public justice by permission of the law in advancement of public justice and in defense of person, property against one who manifestly intends by violence or surprise to endeavor to commit a felony on either, or a person, who, manifestly, intends and endeavors to enter this country in another in a violent and tumultuous manner for the purpose of assaulting or offering personal violence to any person being therein.

Great Wrong Done Georgia.

"Gentlemen of the grand jury, a great and grievous wrong has been done to your county, to the people of Georgia, by the perpetrator or perpetrators of these horrible crimes, and I call upon you, as the judges of this circuit and as the mouthpiece of the law, for the sake of the good name of the people of this county and for the sake of law and order, to leave no stone unturned to ferret out who is responsible for this horrible state of affairs in our state and bring the guilty to trial, that our laws may be vindicated and the reputation of our state may be protected.

"From the information that I have received from many good citizens of this county these unlawful homicides are greatly deplored and the many law-abiding people of Jasper county are willing to give you their full and cordial co-operation to ferret out these crimes and to assist in bringing the guilty to trial, and from the persons that compose this grand jury I feel confident that you will fearlessly, impartially, and conscientiously perform your full duty in the performances of the responsibility involving upon you at the present time.

Full Co-operation Assured by Court.

"I wish to assure you that I will give you my active and full co-operation, and I desire you to know that you are free to call upon me for any further information that you may wish in the faithful discharge of your duties at this term of the court.

"The solicitor-general of this circuit also informs me that he will bring to your attention at this term of the court the lynching of Eugene Hamilton in this county in October, 1919. Allow me to say that this defendant was convicted of the offense of assault with intent to murder at the August term, 1919, of Jasper superior court and under the evidence in said case I sentenced him to the state penitentiary for the longest time authorized by law.

"His counsel filed a motion for new trial and during the pendency of said motion this court refused to allow the defendant to give bond as I considered this was the proper course to adopt and I ordered the defendant carried to jail during the pendency of said motion for new trial, and in the month of October, 1919, I was surprised and shocked to learn that the defendant had been forcibly taken from the officers of the law and lynched.

No Rhyme Nor Reason for Act.

"There was neither rhyme nor reason for this unlawful act and when this matter is brought to your attention, your duty requires you to make due investigation into this crime and if the evidence authorizes indictments or special presentations your duty also requires you to see that the guilty parties are brought to trial.

"The constitution of our state which was framed by the wise men of Georgia and adopted by the people in 1877, provides that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law and also provides that the protection of person and property is the paramount duty of government and shall be impartial and complete. These are among the essential principles upon which our state government is founded and it is the duty of every good citizen to see that these laws are respected and enforced in each county of the state.

"It is the solemn duty of the judges, jurors, and all law abiding people to see that they are impartially enforced, and every person in this great county from the humblest to the greatest, is entitled to the equal protection of the law.

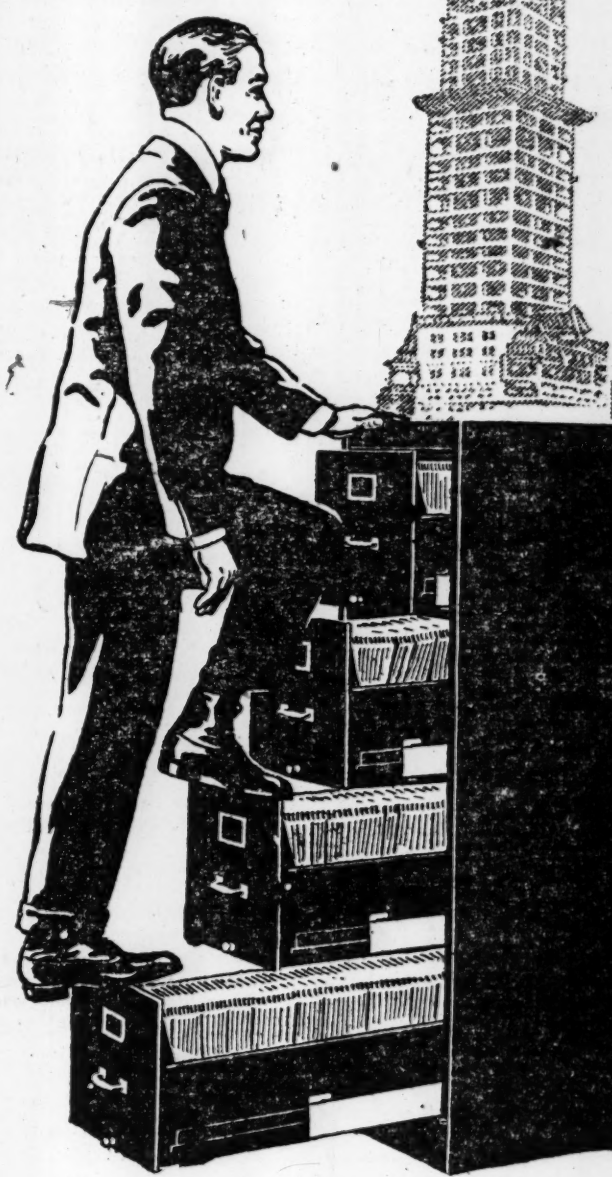

Without Justification Or Valid Excuse.

"No man or set of men have the moral or legal right to deprive any

THE CONSTITUTION FINANCIAL MARKETS AND REVIEWS

Market Has Weak Spots, But Specialties Are Firm

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, April 11.—(United News.)—Oil, motor and steel shares held firm today in a stock market that had a number of weak spots. On rumors that the sale of its property to a British syndicate had fallen through, American Linedrop 4 points in the early trading. Northern Pacific, which closed at 74½, sold down to 72½ before noon. With lawyers for that company and Great Northern appearing before the interstate commerce commission at Washington to argue for permission to issue $230,000,000 joint 6½ per cent convertible bonds to take up the $215,000,000 joint 4½ maturing July 1. Even if the commission gives its consent, these bonds will greatly increase the carrying charge for control of Burlington.

According to the statements made today by lawyers for the Hill roads, the new convertible 6½s are to be secured by $33,000,000 of Northern Pacific general mortgage 6s and a like amount of Great Northern 7s.

Pennsylvania again made a new low record for the year, selling at 32½, the lowest level in over forty years, or since 1879, when the same figure was touched. As the 24th of this month, the regular day for holding the dividend meeting, comes on Sunday, the meeting will be held on the 27th. Paying 6 per cent, or $3 a share, on the $50 par value shares, Pennsylvania is now offering an income return of nearly 10 per cent. That is too much, and indicates that there is some basis for the widely circulated rumors that the dividend rate will be cut. Pennsylvania's dividend rate for the past six years is a small fraction over 6 per cent.

One explanation for the heaviness for the railroad list as a whole was today's statement from Washington showing that for the month of February 200 companies reported a deficit after payment of ordinary operating expenses and taxes of $7,250,000, against the deficit of $958,000 reported for January. For the six months ending February 28, the railroads of the country earned only 2½ per cent on property account against the 5½ provided for under the transportation law. Wall street heard today that President Harding would not take up the railroads in the message to congress to be delivered tomorrow, but that he would take up the matter in the near future. Certainly the public is entitled to light on the railroad situation from some source. It is possible that it may come through the investigation proposed by Senator Cummins.

Following the over-Sunday announcement that the National Bank of Cuba had closed, the branch of that bank here failed to open its doors this morning. It is understood that Armour & Co., the American Foreign Bank, the American Sugar Refining Co., and a number of other large industrial concerns and financial institutions are creditors. It was also understood that banking interests here have been expecting the latest developments in Cuba made to much money in too short a time in sugar. The whole country day last week. Even laboring men who had been glad to get $1 a day refused to work for $9 and $10, preferring to gamble in the shares of sugar and other local companies. Time and again the harbor of Havana was crowded with empty ships awaiting to be loaded because labor could not be obtained.

As for our own banks at the beginning of this week, the reserve ratio of the twelve federal reserve institutions stood at 53.5, against 52.4 a week ago and 43.2 a year ago. This is the highest reserve reported since June of 1919, when the figure stood at 53.7. The twelve banks gained $20,000,000 in gold holdings last week, making the gain for a month $100,000,000, or for 1921 no less than $205,000,000. Redisc counts last week dropped $65,000,000, of which $51,000,000 were in commercial paper.

The reserve ratio New York bank dropped to 53.8 against 56.7 a week ago and 43.2 a year ago. But this was merely due to help given by other banks. Two others showed decreases, Kansas City dropping to 42.8 against 43.9 last week and 42.5 a year ago, with Minneapolis down to 45.2 compared with 46.6 a week ago and 45.3 a year ago.

Call money renewed at 7 per cent today. It stayed at that level all day.

Everybody in Wall street seemed to have a positive opinion to express today on the other regarding the letter just written by Halsey Sisk, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, to A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central railroad, in reply to the recent criticism of Smith and his directors of the wage conferences of railway employees and officials called by the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities. Fisk is associated with S. Davies Warfield, who created and personally conducted the association last named. Smith, who is recalled, is acting on orders from his directors to the activities of Warfield and his associates as unfortunate and improper. Today Fisk, in a letter to Smith, after pointing out that his company alone has a financial interest of $32,000,000 in the New York Central system, says: "Frankly, it disturbs us to have your board of directors say that they represent in their dealings with us the superior obligations of the stockholders without any recognition of the superior obligations of the railroad company. We have seen no disposition on your part to recognize our interests or consult with those who, in a sense, own your property. On the other hand, you are objecting, if you will pardon us for saying so in an offensive and not to say impudent way, to our endeavor to protect our investments."

That is pretty strong talk when it is realized that the New York Central board of directors is made up of such men as W. K. Vanderbilt, George F. Baker, William Rockefeller, Ogden Mills, Roberts, S. Lovett, E. S. Harkness. Naturally, Wall street's interest was aroused. Some people believed that Fisk, with his large investment in New York Central, is right. But those whose opinions count for the most are of the belief that Fisk is all wrong. It was pointed out that the New York Central's directors are elected by the shareholders, who own and control the property as long as its interest is being paid on borrowed money; that the bondholders are in exactly the same position as long as the company pays interest and principal when due; that as long as the company pays interest and principal when due, the bondholder is in no sense, as Fisk claims, the owner of the property.

Coffee. New York, April 11.—According to some of the reports reaching here fully a million bags of coffee have already been purchased by brokers opening for the Brazilian government, but today's official cables showed no improvement in the primary markets, and prices were lower under waiting liquidation. The opening was at a decline of 7 to 15 points and July contracts sold off to 6.0 during the afternoon. That delivery closed at 6.03, with the general market closing at a net gain of 10 to 20 points. May, 5.99; July, 6.00; September, 6.43; October, 6.60; December, 6.44; January, 6.92; March, 7.08. Spot coffee, 6.01; Rio, 6.00; Santos, 4.75.

Rice. New Orleans, April 11.—Rough rice, no sales; receipts, 1,211 sacks; millers' receipts, none. Clean rice, steady; sales: Blue Rose, 1,003 sacks, 24¢; 43¢. Bran and polish, unchanged; receipts, 8,308.

New York Spots. New York, April 11.—Spot cotton quiet; middling 12.50.

HIGHER PRICES RULE NEW ORLEANS MARKET

New Orleans, April 11.—Higher prices prevailed in the cotton market today, but the gains were all made during the first hour of the session, the market having a slight tendency to react during the last half. At the highest, the market was 35 to 38 points over the close of last week, with May up 11 to 15. The close showed net gains of 29 to 31 points, with May at 11.75. Most of the buying was stimulated by the favorable turn in the British labor situation, but some buying was done on the cold weather over the belt, which private reports said had worked more or less damage to young cotton in the southernmost portions. Toward the middle of the day the official forecast of fair and warmer weather for the entire belt, the conditions most desired, caused something of a reactionary feeling, but the widest recessions carried the market barely 15 points down from the top. In the late trading the market steadied.

After the noon hour early buyers liquidated in a moderate way, but new support was received from reports from points in Louisiana telling of young cotton having been killed out by frost and by rain from south Texas that heavy rains and high rivers of last week had completely wiped out new crops in some sections.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS. New Orleans, April 11.—Spot cotton firm 25 higher. Sales on the spot 491 bales; to arrive none. Low middling 8.50; middling 11.25; good middling 11.00. Receipts 1,650; stock 358,498.

Dry Goods. New York, April 11.—Cotton goods and cotton yarn markets were steady. Raw silk was firmer. Heavy wools for California delivery were held 30 points higher. No improvement was reported in the buying of linens for future delivery.

prominent young man of Summerville, was conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the Summerville Presbyterian church by Rev. R. H. Orr. The Summerville lodge of the Sons of which Martin was a member had charge of the burial service. Interment being made in the cemetery at that place. Mr. Martin was only 25 years of age and was one of the country's best known young men. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Green Martin, who survive him, besides one sister, Mrs. Ernest Agan, of Birmingham, Ala., and four brothers, Joe, John and Evan, of Fairfax, Ga., and Frank Martin, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

THREE WILLIAMS BOYS
INDICTED IN JASPER

person of life, liberty, or property except as provided by the statutes of the land. To do otherwise in this age of enlightenment and Christianity is without excuse or justification.

"If we do the inevitable results will lead to anarchy and no person's life will be safe. Our material and religious prosperity and progress will decay and we will become a byword among the civilized nations of the world and the form of government, instead of being respected will be a reproach throughout the entire world and instead of being regarded as the land of the free and the home of the brave, we will be in the estimation of other nations as weak and without inherent strength of protecting our citizens.

Will Be Shunned
By Outside Capital.

"We have reached the point, unless the spirit of lawlessness is checked by our courts, juries and the law-abiding people, that we will be shunned by the best class of people, and capital will refuse to come among us to develop our natural resources, our agricultural, manufacturing and commercial enterprises.

"It matters not how sincere the judges of our courts may be to see the laws enforced, this cannot be done except with the cordial cooperation of the juries and all the good people in every county of the state.

"Some people have the wrong impression as to the opinion of many of the public officers of the state, who are not in the least sympathetic to a fair trial by an impartial jury, it is not for the reason that he has any sympathy for those who violate the laws of the land, but for the higher and nobler motive that he loves and respects the laws of this country, order and justice, and when these three are trodden under feet the innocent frequently suffer.

When the state takes custody of the public officers of the state, helpless and defenseless, it should be under the protection of the strong arm of the law, to be punished, if guilty, and released if innocent, after a fair trial.

Reflection
On The White Race.

"It is strange that men of the great white race should so far forget themselves as to join a mob to do violence.

"This race in every clime is known for its bravery, its courage and determination, and whether in the frozen regions of the north or the tropical countries of the south, it has been the superior race of men of this race to deprive a man of his life without due process of law, is not in accordance with the traditions that have governed the Anglo-Saxon race from time immemorial.

For a man to hold up another at the point of a pistol is neither manly nor courageous. It is no act of bravery for any act of violence, and humanity laws are unlawful, and the perpetrators are guilty of cold-blooded murder.

Must Face
The Greatest Court.

"If the perpetrators of such crimes are not brought to justice under the laws of this state, I believe that they will be finally brought to justice by the Great Judge of the universe, and that He will pronounce the sentence that was pronounced on the first murderer and vagabond shall then be in the earth.

"I have given you these instructions for your consideration and guidance during the present trial, and I trust that you will be able to assure you that they are prompted by no motive other than the love of this great state of ours and from an earnest desire to see that our laws are impartially enforced in every case.

"These are no formal words delivered to you, but are for your guidance during the present trial, and if the people honestly believe in and desire law and order to reign in every part of our great country will come out in the open and actively assist the public officers in the administration of the laws, this wave of crime that has been sweeping over the entire world will cease and the lawless element will seek cover in a very short time.

The good citizens of this county are looking to you and the court to do our full duty. I am here for that purpose, and I feel confident that this purpose in this case will work at this special term of the court will redound to the happiness, peace and prosperity of all the citizens of your county, which contains many true and loyal citizens."

Organization of the grand jury was completed shortly after the conclusion of Judge Parks' charge.

E. H. Jordan was elected as foreman. The other members are: T. G. Blackwell, W. R. Kelly, J. H. Key, Otis Farrier, G. T. Powers, P. W. Malone, J. O. Waldron, N. H. B. H. H. Jordan, J. F. Pope, H. B. Kelly, Reuben Jordan, J. S. Malone, J. E. Henderson, A. J. R. and J. Phillips, A. N. Woods and W. J. Phillips.

Immediately after the hearing of the "murder farm" case, Manning and the other witnesses were returned to the Fulton county jail.

The Williams boys, according to Dr. Gus Williams, are now not at the plantation. The young physician has taken charge of the farm and will conduct it in the future.

Regarding the pending motion for a new trial of Williams, who is now under a light guard, it was rumored here today that the motion will be withdrawn.

RECKLESS DRIVING
BY INTOXICATED
DRIVER CHARGED

Charged with reckless driving of an automobile while intoxicated, W. B. Chandler, 27 years old, who was charged with the murder of Lindsey Peterson, was lodged in the city police station last night at 9:30 o'clock.

According to reports, Chandler was driving east down Ponce de Leon avenue in a light touring car when his car struck a machine belonging to W. H. Buckhardt, of Peachtree street, standing in front of 615 Ponce de Leon avenue.

The front fender of Chandler's machine knocked a hole in the other car, making a loud noise which attracted the attention of neighbors. Chandler sped his car up and tried to make his get-away, the police were told. Less than a block away, however, his engine stalled and before he could escape from the machine he was overtaken and the police summoned.

Patrol Officers McDaniel and Ballard were called to the scene and Chandler in the police station where he is held on $100 bond.
